If an individual, who has a Heating Mechanic I license, passes the Heating Mechanic II examination, the Heating Mechanic I license is upgraded to a Heating Mechanic II license at no additional cost for the remainder of the year. The individual must return the Heating Mechanic I license to get the Heating Mechanic II license.

The City of Lewiston, Idaho, has agreed to reciprocate with Spokane for Heating Mechanic I and II and Oil licenses.

Any jurisdiction that has a Heating Mechanic I or II (Gas Fitter) examination similar to the City of Spokane Heating Mechanic I or II may have their license reciprocated with the City of Spokane. If their examination does not have an oral portion, the oral portion of the City of Spokane Heating Mechanic I or II examination must be passed prior to issuance of a City of Spokane Heating Mechanic I or II license.

The licenses are to be renewed by the end of the year. We have allowed an additional 15 days (to January 15) before we require the individual to retake the examination. So, if their license is not renewed for over 1 year, we can require them to retake the examination.
